JUDITH FINER-FREEDMAN

a work-life researcher and consultant, will be presenting tips and techniques for how to succeed in a law firm environment while managing life's demands outside of the office.

In her discussion, "Navigating Your Career and Personal Life: The Path to Success," she will focus on the challenges women face in law firms and how to address them; how to recognize a law firm that supports family-friendly policies; and how to pro-actively direct your work environment to become more positively disposed to the needs of balancing work and home demands.
